I am a professional based out of Happenstance Farms in Wright City, Missouri. At Happenstance we have a large, very competitive group of Channel 1 horses and students, a group of horses and students that are very active on the local show circuit, an academy program with around 40 riders of all levels and ages, and, a well attended summer schooling show series. Although we have several staff members, I am directly involved in all hands on aspects and management of these diverse activities, as well as barn management, business management, marketing and social media. Prior to my time at Happenstance, I served in the same role at Irish Fox Stables for over 10 years.

I served on the equestrian team board as president at Truman State University from 2008-2011.
Do you have non-equestrian business experience? If so, please list.
I was employed, and very successful in an office manager position at a small animal clinic in Loveland, Colorado from 2011-2013.
What is the biggest challenge the sport is facing in your opinion?
I believe the biggest challenge facing our sport is the loss of the "middle". In my time in the industry I have seen an incredibly large gap form between the lowest and highest levels of our sport, making it incredibly difficult for the average horseman to have the type of competition and instruction experience in our industry that they could have had in the past. I believe this is due to several factors, including but not limited to; monetary inflation in all aspects, social license to operate, influence of social media, lack of knowledgeable instructors, decrease in geographic access to services, and "big box" horse shows.
How do you hope to contribute on the Zone Committee?
I hope to contribute to the zone committee by bringing my perspective, the perspective of a working professional, who interacts with and advocates for all types of clients that want the most out of the sport while staying within their means.
What is your favorite thing about the sport?
My favorite thing about the sport is the unique traditions and culture that we have.

What is your favorite thing about the sport?
I think my favorite part about the sport is the horses. I like the challenge of discovering what each horse needs to preform at their best. It makes me think outside the box sometimes!
